Dear Readers

Thank you for reading.
We welcome
your feedback
regarding this report.

We received much praise as a result of the major format changes to last year's report. Readers stated that the report was "easier to read", that they were "able to feel and understand CSR", and that "the website feels like it has volume". We have maintained last year's format and made changes to the title of the leaflet. We will continue to improve our CSR report by collecting and referring to readers' opinions. Please share your comments about the full report on our website.
