

April 08, 2010
JTEKT Corporation

News Report on Freeze on the Development of High-Efficiency Chain for CVT

On April 08, 2010, a certain press reported JTEKT is going to freeze the development of high-efficiency chain (involute chain) for CVT. However, it's not a fact.

We will still continue the development of the involute chain for mass production to further enhance the efficiency of CVT.